Homemade, gently stored, and it doesn't have a ghostly past that would cast you away from acquiring him--- er, I mean, it, I mean, my prized heirloom. It's not small, or light, or fragile, but it's not uncomfortable, and made to last another lifetime. Best thing about it? Its a costume component that draws hella attention, so your trick or treating life is extended incalculably. With a cloak and some stilts, (no heelies advised) your child with scare all others with his/hers wake alone. I probably trick or treated from ages 10-12 with it. I feel like this is a hot item, but I'll accept offers and trades (It needs one eyeball fixed, but I should have that fixed...). Thanks!
